

A silhouette illustration of three camels and their riders ascending a steep, dark hill. The camels are arranged in a line, moving from the bottom left towards the top right. Each camel has a rider on its back. The background is a deep blue night sky filled with numerous small, bright stars. A large, prominent four-pointed star with a long tail is visible in the upper left corner. The overall style is minimalist and evocative, using high contrast between the dark silhouettes and the bright sky.
